AFFIDAVIT OF "ARM'S LENGTH TRANSACTION"

All parties to this agreement hereby affirm that this is an "Arm's length transaction".

No party to this contract is a family member, business associate, or shares a business interest with the NHICC. Furthermore, it solemnly declared that there are no hidden terms or special understandings between the NHICC or any home inspection association, entity or their agents.

The only arrangement hereby disclosed allows reciprocal recognition of specific home inspection associations in Canada that mutually have entered into "Administrative Agreement" with the NHICC.

None of the parties shall receive any proceeds from this transaction except the administration subsidy cost of delivering the National Certification Program fees, publicly displayed on the NHICC web site.

Those holding Administrative Agreement cannot receive credits, kickbacks or any funds from any party to the transaction unless written and approved as part of the contract.

Below you are required to SIGN and AFFIRM this "Arm's Length Transaction" Affidavit.

Putting your name on it says that you understand and completely agree that you are acting in good faith and represent the best interest of honouring this agreement and therefore do not intend to do any of the things that it states you will not do.

Anything outside of this agreement is considered in contravention of the NHICC Code of Ethics.
