

I-TEST INSPECTION WITH PEER REVIEW

RATIONALE

This skill-based practical exam known as the TIPR assesses a home inspectors expertise and practical knowledge, thus validating competency in conducting a representative home inspection. This includes the examination of three distinct skill sets noted below.

In the case of a selection procedure for measuring knowledge, the knowledge being measured is operationally defined as that body of learned information which is used in regular day-to-day home inspection practice, and is a necessary prerequisite for observable aspects of work skills essential to the occupation. A home inspector can typically acquire the knowledge and skills needed to successfully complete the TIPR exam through on-the-job experience, recommended training courses, and/or through a solid understanding of home inspection reference materials.

All applicants will be tested in the following skill sets:

1. Inspection knowledge and skills: The National Occupational Standards identifies the tasks that practitioners must actually perform in the workplace.
2. Reporting: Both oral and written reporting skills are the tangible evidence (finished products) of the results of a home inspection. Applicants are encouraged to utilize their own reporting system for the submission of the written inspection report.
3. Standards of Practice: Applicants are benchmarked against the ASHI Home Inspection Standards of Practice and Code of Ethics.

TIPR OVERVIEW

The Test Inspection and Peer Review (TIPR) process is open to all home inspectors in Canada. The purpose is to test, validate and improve inspection and communication skills and assure confidence in the essential services provided to consumers. Home inspectors seeking National Home Inspector designation are required to fulfill the TIPR requirements in order to advance in the National Certification Program. There are three distinct categories in the review process. (See graphic TIPR Flow Chart image)

1. Onsite Inspection: This is a realistic home inspection. In the test inspection component the applicant is given time to inspect a pre-selected house as if he/she were working for a fee paying client. The applicant independently conducts the inspection of the peer review house at the specified start time. The methodology of the inspection and use of inspection tools or aids are left to the choice of the applicant.
2. Peer Review: After inspecting the house the applicant presents the inspection findings to a peer review panel. The applicant is expected to identify all the “significant” major deficiencies and demonstrate sound technical knowledge and communication skills. The Examiner(s) will ask questions and test the participant’s communication skills on the home inspection completed.
3. Inspection Report Review: The applicant is required to provide substantiation of their inspection reporting skills through completion and submission of a documented inspection report. Applicants are free to use any report system for this submission. The report may be handed over to the Examiners or mailed within 24 hours of completion to the NHICC Registrar.

Note: The home will be pre-inspected by a panel of qualified home inspector Examiners prior to the applicant reviews. This establishes a defined level of mandatory “significant” deficiencies and “must find conditions” to assure quality for benchmarking purposes for the inspection review process.

Scheduling Exams To schedule and pay for a TIPR exam the applicant must contact the NHICC Registrar to register prior to when an applicant wants to take the exam. Applicants are required to complete a Background Review Application Form and review by National Admissions Board.

There is no guarantee of a set time or date for the TIPR Exam until all of the required forms are properly completed. Typically TIPR's are conducted in an area when there are sufficient numbers to accommodate a full day of examinations.

Rescheduling an Exam If you have a scheduled a date and time for your examination, and you need to reschedule the TIPR the applicant must contact the Chief Examiner and/or Deputy Examiner at least two weeks prior to the examination. No refunds are offered after the above two week rescheduling date.

Conflict of Interest The TIPR program is conducted as an open and fair process. If a "conflict of interest" arises the applicant may request another Examiner to conduct to review. Likewise, an Examiner also is required to declare when or if a conflict arises in the TIPR process.

Exam Results Most questions about scores or exam results cannot be answered on the date of the TIPR exam. Applicants will be advised of their successful or non-successful status based on the TIPR evaluation by your on-site Examiner by the Chief Examiner. Typically Examiners' are unable to tell applicants the final results of their score over the telephone or by email. However, they will help an applicant get that information if it is not released in a timely manner.
